

YES SIR! HE DID!

Hold everything!
Keep the red flannels out on the line, and the heavy socks on your feet, for the winter is just getting its second wind.
Stand by for dirty weather ahead, mates. The Oracle of Punxsutawney has spoken, the die is cast, the worm has turned, and the groundhog has seen his shadow.
Sneaking out of his hole with a stealthy snuck, the groundhog did his daily dozen, brushed his teeth with a wisp of stubble, read the market reports, then, sock, just like that, out came the sun and jimmied the works.
REVERSES GEARS AT ONCE
He didn't see much of his shadow. Say about a dime's worth. But there was just enough sun to cause a shadow, and that just enough of the groundhog left to cast a shadow, and uttering low moaning sounds the groundhog threw his gears into reverse, and went back for six weeks more of hay.
It can't be helped, folks!
Old Sol is responsible. Had he stayed back of a cloud we might have been able to plant nasturtiums or green onions in a couple of weeks, but as it is, we will be combing icicles out of our beards for another six weeks.
KEEP YOUR HEAVY NECKTIE ON!
Of course you believe the groundhog myth.
And probably you believe the moon is made of green cheese, or that bootleg liquor is bottled in bond, or that Judge Hildebrand believes in tight wines and beer. They all come under the same heading.
Whether you believe it or not, it wouldn't be a bad idea to keep wearing your heavy necktie and spats!
The sun shone this morning, the groundhog saw his shadow and the government at Washington still lives.

Expect Early Action By County Commissioners On Changing Precincts

Petitioning the courts for the redistricting of congested election precincts is a comparatively simple thing, according to a statement made today by Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, and does not in itself mean that the redistricting would be done, even though the prayer of the petition were answered.
All that a petition can do, according to the court, is ask that a commission be appointed to investigate conditions, and this commission is appointed from the Board of Viewers. If this commission finds that certain districts are overcrowded then it can recommend the redistricting of those precincts. Others can be left as they are.
"Such a petition," said Judge Hildebrand, "can come either from the Board of County Commissioners, or it may come from a group of citizens who are interested in having crowded districts divided. The petition is presented to the court and if passed upon favorably, a commission is appointed to study the situation. This commission comes from the Board of Viewers upon which there are men qualified to make such a study. Their recommendations are then presented to the court."
Quite naturally Judge Hildebrand did not make any statement as to what his action would be if such a petition were presented. Such a statement would not be expected inasmuch as it would imply judgment upon a question before it was submitted.
However, Judge Hildebrand is familiar with conditions in the county and county and if such a petition is presented, as it is expected, it would not be surprising if a commission would be appointed shortly after the presentation.
Citizens of the Second ward have expressed themselves freely over the crowded condition of the precincts in (Continued On Page Two)

Senate-House Friction Acute Over Fund Bill

Members Of Both Houses Are Called Down For Caustic Remarks

RULES OF BOTH BRANCHES BROKEN

May Launch Effort To Bring Back "Era Of Good Feeling"

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Friction between Senate and House over the $24,000,000 extra prohibition enforcement fund had become so keen today that sober-minded leaders of both bodies were talking steps to bring back an "era of good feeling" in Congress.
Members in both houses have been "called down" by presiding officers for making derogatory remarks about members of the other branch or the branch itself. This is prohibited by rules of both bodies.
Caustic Comment
The caustic remarks which sprang out of the debate are recognized by the leaders to be not merely impulsive statements, but to express a feeling which has been growing in the last few years.
The feeling, it is said, had its origin in part in the campaign of Vice President Dawes to change the rules of the Senate while differences over the budget system which came in with the Harding administration have also become deep-seated.
While senators, with their rules permitting unlimited debate, have regarded the House as "machine controlled" because of rules which prevent effective filibusters. House spokesmen have replied with the declaration that the House does all the work and the Senate does all the talking.

West Virginia Family Members Victims In Fire

Fire Traps Family In Home Near Buckhannon, W. Va., Early Today

HUSBAND OF ONE VICTIM ESCAPES

Father, Mother And Children Perish In Flames; One Child Is Infant

(Bulletin)
International News Service
BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Feb. 2.—While firemen looked helplessly on, 10 persons were burned to death in a fire which followed an explosion of a can of blasting powder in their home here early today.
The house was entirely destroyed. The fire nearly wiped out two entire families.
THE DEAD ARE:
Peter Flies, 50, a miner, his wife and six children. Solomon, 17; Hiram, 14; Ernest, 10; Harold, eight; Mabel, four; Ida, two; and a married daughter, Mrs. Troy Gibson, and her three-month-old baby.
Firemen were forced to stand by while fire razed the little dwelling because of lack of water and pumps. The house was situated just outside of this village.
Explosion Precedes Fire
According to neighbors, an explosion preceded the fire. This, firemen stated, was probably from a can of blasting powder which had been placed before an open grate to dry.
Mrs. Gibson's husband escaped with severe burns, and though conscious, could tell only an incoherent story of the fire.

ROGERS SEES WAY FOR ANDY TO TURN JOKE ON THE 'DRYS'

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The dries are still trying to figure out some way of making Mellon take that $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement.
Be a good joke on 'em if Mellon used it trying to enforce prohibition in one wing of the Capitol.
I see some of the senators are not for building the cruisers till we get a war booked. So we will have to figure out some kind of a guarantee to those fellows that we will scare 'em up a war.
The Democrats are so used to running second in everything that they are satisfied with the second best navy.
Yours, WILL.

Cruiser Bill Is Ably Defended By Senate Leaders

Insurgents, Led By Senator Norris, Hammer At Cruiser Measure Without Success

LEADERS PREDICT SUCCESSFUL VOTE

Senate Apparently Will Enact Cruiser Building Program By Big Majority

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The opposition to the administration's new cruiser bill had scored some telling blows against the measure today but without any effect on the senate's apparent intent to enact the bill by an overwhelming margin.

The insurgent group, under the leadership of Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, hammered at the measure incessantly. It was attacked as imperialistic, as provoking a world armament race, as inciting fresh hatred abroad for America, as a waste of taxpayers' money by a half dozen members of the insurgent bloc.

Measure Depended.
Administration leaders and Democratic preparedness advocates however ably defended the measure, which provides for the construction of fifteen new modern cruisers and an aircraft carrier, all built to be laid down in three years. They argued the new warships were necessary to replace obsolete cruisers, some of which are 25 years old and which would be worthless in another war. They declared the new cruisers were necessary to defend America's world trade, to protect her coastlines and to insure respect for her flag on the high seas in event of a war between other nations.

Senator Norris however ridiculed these arguments for the bill.

"Great Britain needs a larger navy than the United States," said Norris, replying to demands that the American navy be put upon a par with the British navy. "Great Britain has vastly more territory to protect than we have. She has to protect her territory all over the world. She has to protect herself, a mere island, because she couldn't live for a day unless she brought food in to her people. That doesn't apply to the United States. We are a compact country and we don't need as big a navy as Great Britain."

Warns Of Danger.
Norris also declared the danger of entering a naval race with the British.

"If we enter this race and if we match Great Britain's navy, the logic of the situation will force us to build a navy larger than all the other navies of the world combined," said (Continued On Page Two)

Plan Dragging Of Susquehanna River For Woman's Body

Effort Will Be Made To Launch Boats On Ice-Filled River In Hunt For Body

MURDER SUSPECT IS HELD IN JAIL

Perfume Salesman Sticks To Story Of Suicide; Increase Reward Money

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Efforts will be made today to launch a boat on the ice-filled waters of the Susquehanna river here to continue the search for the body of Yvonne Klink, missing confectiory store manager. Dauphin county commissioners have increased the reward offered for information leading to the recovery of the girl's body to $200.
Miss Klink was last seen by friends a week ago last night and Harry B. Bowman, perfume salesman, is held in the county jail here in connection with her disappearance. Counsel for Bowman has declared that he will ask for a writ of habeas corpus, but has not indicated when he will appear in court.
Sticks To Story.
While fruitless searching for the body of Miss Klink continued, Miss Ethel Miller, Bowman's alleged sweetheart, was also held in jail as a material witness. It was believed that Bowman's estranged wife, Ida, planned to visit her husband this afternoon.
Bowman solidly maintains that he and Miss Klink had agreed "to end it all" when they failed to raise sufficient funds for the purchase of a candy store and that he had waded ashore after he and the girl had leaped in the river on the night of January 25.

DELINQUENT MAY UNDERGO ARREST

Must Pay Tax Which Is Delinquent Or Face Arrest, McClung Says

Persons who have not yet paid 1928 city and school taxes are apt to be placed under arrest at any time now, said City Treasurer Louis McClung today. He said city tax became delinquent last July and school tax in October.
McClung said that full and ample time has been given to erring taxpayers and the grace has expired.
Beginning Monday a round-up may be started and it would not be surprising he said, were some arrests made.

POLICE ANSWER CALL

Police received a call from Mrs. Smith, 718 Brooklyn avenue, Friday stating that her husband was violent and in bad shape and asking assistance in taking care of him. A member of the household made an information against the man, after which Officers Thompson and Kennedy and Constable A. S. Leslie secured the man and placed him in the county jail.

Still No Trace Of Missing Man

Crossing Watchman Vanishes Mysteriously; Gone Nearly Month

Stanley Reczeknick of Union township, missing Pennsylvania railroad crossing watchman, who has never been seen or heard of since his disappearance early in January, is still among the missing, although there have been rumors from here and there of the body of a man resembling the missing man. So far all such rumors have been investigated and in each instance it has been found to be the body of another man.
In disappearing, Reczeknick left his wife and five children in destitute circumstances and employees of the Pennsylvania railroad have been most generous in an effort to relieve their want by raising a small fund to be used in keeping them, during the continued hunt for the missing man, for which Mrs. Reczeknick expresses her gratitude.

HOOVER IS ENJOYING FINAL FISHING DAY

Will Begin Series Of Important Conferences During Coming Week

Problem Of Government Finances One To Receive First Attention

(International News Service)
LONG KEY, Fla., Feb. 2.—President-elect Hoover shopped off early today for his final day of deep-sea fishing before turning his mind once again to affairs of state.
Tonight he plans to return to his temporary home on Belle Isle and Miami Beach, where he will devote himself during the early days of next week to an important series of conferences on pressing governmental problems.

The first of these problems to receive his attention will be the prospective state of federal finances during the first few years of the Hoover administration.
Finances Big Worry
Unless a careful course is charted by the fiscal officers of the government after the President-elect enters the White House, it is predicted in some quarters, the vast expenditures for internal improvement and other purposes authorized by the 70th Congress may result in a substantial treasury deficit.
The significance which Mr. Hoover attaches to this prospective state of affairs is indicated by the fact that his house guest over the week-end will be Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, who has long been the Republican mouthpiece on tariff and revenue matters in the upper chamber of Congress. Upon Smoot, in large measure, will devolve the duty of keeping appropriations down to the minimum when the extra session of Congress convenes in April to enact a farm relief bill. The Utah senator also will have the task of defending the Hoover administration's position on the tariff bill, now being prepared by the House ways and means committee.

During his brief sojourn in Florida President Coolidge found time for a somewhat lengthy conference with Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York, who has been the patronage dispenser of New York under two administrations. Hilles accompanied Mr. Coolidge to the train in Mountain Lake last night.
The route of the Coolidge special today over the Atlantic Coast Line lay through Georgia and the Carolinas. He will reach Washington tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON PENSION BILL

Council May Gather Informally And Discuss Pending Measure

Councilmen today stated that no conference has been held since councilmanic action yesterday relative to the pension bill for police and firemen.

The measure which provides a pension based on age and 20 years service was introduced by Councilman Davies and remains in committee.

Councilman Tyler favors a pension system for other deserving employees of the city. Councilman Reeves has also voiced a similar trend.

Mayer Gillespie is not fully satisfied with the bill as written as the pension increases by age after men have been retired.

It is probable that City Solicitor White and councilmen will gather, thrash out the problem then enter council meeting and vote favorably or unfavorably for the bill.

YOUNG MAN AND CAR ARE REPORTED AS BEING MISSING

Arthur Mometer

He sneaked right out and he looked around and he sneaked right back again, and he laid him down for another sleep in the quietness of his pen. He looked about with a bit of awe, and he slyly cocked his eye, then tilted his chin and he tried a grin as he looked at the azure sky. Ohio said he as he saw the sun my shadow is certainly plain, so I'll duck back in, to the missus and kids and I'll go back to sleep again. And the folks can shiver for all I care, they can cuss at the winter chill, but I'll be warm as a bug in a rug, I'll finish my sleep, I will. So back went the groundhog for six more weeks, to get him a lot more hay, for he saw his shadow as plain as could be, its thirty and chilly today.

CRUISER BILL IS ABLY DEFENDED BY SENATE LEADERS

Norris. "Why we may have a war any day with Great Britain, France, Germany and Nicaragua combining against us. Then we would have to have a navy bigger than all of them put together."

"This race for naval supremacy has no end. It means destruction not only to our nation but to all the nations of the world. Its a race which all nations must enter if we enter it. It never will stop until civilization is destroyed by war or by taxation. It cannot end until the people of the world become peasants and debts are so heavy the laborers and farmers and workers are unable any longer to pay the gigantic costs. It has no end once we enter it."

Almost Certain To Pass.

Norris ridiculed the claim of the bill supporters that its enactment would insure peace and lead to a new disarmament conference. He proposed that Senator Hale (R) of Me. in charge of the bill, be sent abroad to inform other nations that America, while building the new cruisers, never intended to use them and would never fire a gun aboard them.

Despite the insurgent attack, the bill was certain of enactment. Under an agreement already reached, debate will be limited Monday afternoon with the prospect of a final vote late that day or Tuesday.

PA NEW OBSERVES

opening the door of the furnace used for such a small grey squirrel hopped out and began scampering about the room. How long it had been there no one was able to say. It had evidently been jumping about the roof of the house as squirrels are prone to do, and in some manner got too far into the chimney and either lost hold and fell or was overcome by the fumes issuing out of it. Just the same the squirrel was found in the furnace. Trees overhang the home and it most likely that this is how the squirrel reached the roof.

And now the restaurateur has changed from "big piece or little piece," when speaking of pie, to "fresh piece or stale piece, sir?"

Caroline E. Push of Maryland avenue is celebrating her 16th birthday anniversary today which happens to be Ground Hog day. She thereby gains membership in the Pa New club.

C. W. Forbes of South New Castle boro is observing his birthday on this woodchuck day. S. M. Kheram of R. D. 4 is also having a birthday today.

Little Zenaida Roberta Kimmich is just one year old today. She has a private secretary type her letter and then her mark appears below—a long, jagged pencil scrawl. Many more and happy ones, little Zenaida.

Birthdays today—Katherine Buchanan of Ladrop street, and Berenice Buchanan of Court street are both observing woodchuck birthdays.

Pa New would wager a new derby that none of the members of the board of county commissioners cast a ballot at the fourth precinct of the Second ward last election. If they had there would be no long deliberating as to whether or not the precinct should be divided before the next election.

Boys who delight in building birdhouses now have an incentive. The Women's Federated clubs have offered a number of prizes for the best birdhouse this spring.

Pa New's thermometer on the front of The News building appears to have been stationary during the past week. It has hardly changed in the entire week. It has been a long time since such an even spell of winter weather has been experienced as that of the week closing today.

Roy Kirkwood of 105 Holton street was born February 2, 1902. Mr. Kirkwood is made a member of the birth-day club owned and operated by the Pa New family.

on a point of order when mentioning senators by name in his attack upon the amendment.

"The gentleman knows that it is a breach of the rules to mention votes taken in the Senate, because it is the right of each house not to be influenced by the proceedings of the other body, and the quoting of names might lead to a misunderstanding between the two houses," said Rep. Ramseyer (R) of Iowa, speaker pro tempore.

Frequent charges have been made in the House on appropriation bills that they would be "ruined" at the "other end of the capitol." It has become a practice in the last two years for the House to cut appropriation bills severely and for the Senate to restore many of the items stricken out.

Big Rewards Are Offered For Missing Girl

(International News Service) TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 2.—Searchers for Edith Dierdorf, 10-year-old West Terre Haute newsgirl, missing since Sunday, were spurred to renewed efforts today with the announcement that rewards offered total approximately $3,000. Police and other officials admit the only present hope for apprehension of the abductor or slayer of the little girl is that an informer will be attracted by the reward.

The new total was obtained when the Terre Haute city council voted $500 and when an appeal broadcast over WBOW brought contributions from all over the country.

Weickowski Asks For His Freedom

Owner Of Farm Used As Hide-out By Jaworski Gang Seeks Release From Prison

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—A petition asking for the parole of Joseph Weickowski from the workhouse, to which he was sentenced in 1927 on charges of robbery in connection with the operations of the late Paul Jaworski's "Flathead" gang, was on file here today.

The petition was presented to Judge J. Frank Graft, who presided at Weickowski's trial, on behalf of the latter's wife, Sophie Weickowski, who claims that she is in desperate circumstances and that since her husband was sentenced that one of her seven children has died.

Weickowski was returned here from Detroit in a roundup of suspects in the Jaworski gang depredations, including the Mollenauer, Pa., pay roll holdup for which Paul Jaworski paid with his life in the electric chair. Weickowski was the owner of a farm near Bentleyville which was alleged to have been used as a hide-out for the "Flathead" gang.

Swick Votes To Send Measure To Conference

Local Congressman With Majority On Dry Fund Bill

By ARTHUR C. WINER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—

Congressman J. Howard Swick was one of the 240 Congressmen who voted for the motion which sent to conference between the House and the Senate the Harris amendment to provide for the appropriation of $24,000,000 for additional prohibition enforcement work. The sending of the amendment to conference is regarded by House leaders as a victory for the group opposing the appropriation of the additional enforcement funds.

The amendment was sent to conference between the two houses only after a long and spirited debate in the House during which the discussion between the wets and the dries threatened to merge into a free for all exchange of personalities and perhaps actual physical violence. Laughter from the galleries and applause from various members on the floor added to the general air of a riot scene created by the shouting of Congressmen taking the floor in defense or renunciation of the Harris amendment.

Opinion here is divided as to what will be done to the amendment in conference. Those favoring the passage of the amendment endeavored to keep it in the House for discussion and opposed sending it into conference, while opposition to the measure favored the reference of the matter to conference.

For this reason, it is believed by many that the sending of the amendment to the Senate and House conference represents a victory for those opposing the appropriation of the $24,000,000 and precludes the death of the amendment.

CHANGES IN A GENERATION

TO HER list of celebrities England has added a man who has never spoken over a telephone and boasts of it. Being a titled gentleman and 75, it is doubtful if his case could be paralleled on this side of the big pond.

Here we can point only to a few old-ladies who still keep their own horses and cabs and never set foot in a motor car. There are few business men so old-fashioned they refuse to permit typewriters to be used in their offices. Occasionally a man will be seen wearing hat and clothes in the mid-Victorian style. Even the custom of serving punch on New Year's day persists among some old-fashioned Americans.

But the United States is developing a generation which looks upon life through eyes accustomed from infancy to all manner of new inventions. Gone are the days of oil lamps. The gas range has displaced the old wood stove. In fact, a modern child has been known to proclaim that a flatiron of the old brand which has to be heated on a stove, instead of by electricity, is no good because "it has no string."

All this is easily explained. Isolation is all but impossible in this day of good roads, automobiles, airplanes, radio and telephones. Crones, who have never traveled far from home, can go through life without seeing or hearing a locomotive, but only the blind are deprived of the privilege of seeing an automobile. People who still have their first automobile ride to look forward to are almost as scarce as wearers of homespuns.

POLICE PROTECTION FOR THE ENTIRE STATE

CHIEFS of police of Pennsylvania municipalities have approved a bill by which the safety departments of each of the cities would be linked with the state police headquarters in Harrisburg. This would take the form of a telegraph-typewriter system, and would provide protection and assistance to the smallest borough in the commonwealth. The details remain to be worked out; but the understanding is that the state would be divided into four zones, one in Philadelphia, another in Pittsburgh, a third in the anthracite region and the fourth in Harrisburg.

The importance of a plan of this kind cannot be too strongly emphasized. Only the other day Governor Roosevelt of New York, called upon the crimes commission of that state to formulate some plan by which the residents of the rural districts should be given added police service by a system of co-operation with the city police.

It is a matter that deserves the attention of the Pennsylvania legislature. Whether the proposed bill is exactly what is needed, for the legislators to determine, but it is certain that those who live away from large centers of population should be given the best protection possible for life and property.

PROBLEM OF THE KILLER

A SERIES of revolting murders has once more turned the attention of the American people to adequate means of dealing with crime. Of course the arguments about capital punishment, pro and con, are being aired again, with some persons favoring more of it and others pleading for its abolition.

Some think the death penalty is necessary as a crime deterrent. Others turn to it to satisfy a sort of Sadism or in the conviction that a moral responsibility rests on society to punish those who sin against it. And those who oppose capital punishment are inspired either by the thought that it has failed as a crime deterrent or by the belief that society does not have the moral right to take human life.

But while the discussion rages, it is interesting to note that thirteen foreign countries have abolished it for one reason or another. They are Norway, Sweden, Portugal, Netherlands, Austria, Rumania, Latvia, Lithuania, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Honduras and Uruguay. In Belgium, Denmark and Finland it is authorized by law but never resorted to. The federal government and ten of the fifteen cantons of Switzerland have abolished it. Executions are rare in Prussia and, legally, in Italy. Russia executes for political crimes and some misdemeanors but not for murder.

Even here there is a division in practice. Eight states have abolished it and in most of the other forty only a small percentage of the accused pay the supreme penalty. With the exception of a few scattered states the death penalty is imposed only for murder.

It is somebody's duty to draw comparisons from accurate statistics proving for all time whether capital punishment is or is not a crime deterrent. Has it been the universal experience that abolition has been followed by more or fewer murders?

Matrimony has settled down to normal when she discards her tiny embroidered aprons.

Nose Pink, Record Broken.
Peaceful Fishing.
Another Canal Needed.
Reed Urges Cruisers.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn. Inc.)

For 13 hours and 16 minutes, Ellen Smith, 17-year-old girl flier, stayed up in the freezing winds above Long Island in an open airplane. When she came down her nose was bright pink, her legs were stiff. Her hands were almost frozen, but she had broken the women's endurance record by one hour.

Flying interests women. It is one of the things that they can do better than men. The MOST important thing men can't do at all, namely, producing and taking care of children. And that is what should interest women especially. It is better to create an Abraham Lincoln than to be Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Hoover is fishing, calm and peaceful, having written his inaugural address and selected his cabinet. The country won't know who is in the cabinet until March 4.

A thousand or more candidates may be sure that if they haven't heard from Mr. Hoover yet, they will not hear from him. The fact that Secretary Mellon REMAINS in the cabinet will please everybody, something that happens rarely.

The Panama Canal set a new high record for business in January, 593 ships passing in 30 days.

The country needs another canal, and a Nicaragua canal should be built at sea level to take care of growing ocean-to-ocean traffic.

The Nicaragua canal would provide this country with a canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific without the locks, so easily destroyed.

The navy which played at war the other day, attacking and defending the Panama Canal, admits that the attackers, theoretically, "destroyed the canal." They say if the Navy had more fast cruisers the defense would have been successful.

On the other hand, if an enemy came with a few big powerful bombing machines, without any cruisers or any ships on the water, the canal could be destroyed, and the floating ships would mean nothing.

This country has bought from Nicaragua the right to build a canal, and the canal should be built, without loss of time. That will be one of Herbert Hoover's jobs.

Speeches in Congress are unfortunately not read by more than one-tenth of the citizens. Everyone should read Mr. Reed of Missouri's speech demanding fast cruisers and preparation.

Senator Reed says truly, that other countries, notoriously, have prepared in rather complete fashion plans for attacking the United States, in case they should decide to do so.

He reminds the Senate that not a single American-made fighting airplane crossed a German trench, although at the last minute and in a panic the country spent nearly a billion dollars making flying machines that never flew, and another billion making floating ships that we now cannot even give away.

On Monday Col. Lindbergh will pilot the first air mail plane from Miami to Panama, going to the canal as casually as you would travel by rail from Chicago to Milwaukee, and JUST AS SAFELY.

New York will have flying service to and from Coney Island every 15 minutes, fare 5c.

Air traffic will grow. Those that establish paying lines will prosper.

Dr. Barnes, who said, "Men need a new concept of God," says now that he is satisfied with "the Hebrew concept of God."

Perhaps the professor is satisfied because Jehovah is described less minutely than some other concepts. The ancient Hebrews, according to cold science, wandering over the plains with their flocks and herds, far from forests in a monotonous country, seeing only the sky above them, nothing much around them, gave to the world a conception of only one God. One seemed to be enough, for such a landscape.

The Greeks, on the other hand, with their mountains, caves, waterfalls, caverns and groves, invented a different kind of God for all the different places.

Some scientists say that the Hebrew conception of God is older than any recorded Jewish writing, that our Old Testament was taken largely from the Babylonians. But learned rabbis deny that.

Fortunately, under our Constitution, each man is entitled to his own conception of God, and has a right to think what he pleases, as long as he doesn't bother or interfere with anybody else.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

SLOW DISASTER
Disaster is not always sudden. It would not be so tragic if it were always over in a moment. The real tragedy of life is found in the acceptance of the second best. That is slow disaster. If we are not watchful we shall be doing it over and over again. Then it becomes the policy of our lives. We are satisfied to let things go as they are, because the effort to improve is inconvenient.

WHAT IS SECOND BEST?
Where our judgment is most called into play is to learn for sure what is and what is not "second best." We may be persisting in an ambition, in seeking something that has always seemed to be the thing we wanted to do. Perhaps the time has come to abandon our ambition. Perhaps it was a mistaken one. The acceptance of something else and our reasonable adjustment to it may not be the acceptance of the second best. The choice of another road may prove the way to character, without which there is no such thing as success.

THE HOUSE OF QUIET
There is a book called "The House of Quiet." It has an appealing title. Who does not desire a house of quiet? First and more important is to have a house of quiet within. Some people seem to have marvelous self-control. They do not lose their tempers, fly off the handle, make spectacles of themselves. Why? Some think it is a gift, that one is born that way. It is not so—not always. Men with furious tempers have learned by thoughtfulness and patient effort a new way.

If we teach ourselves to control our thoughts and our statements in the time of trivial annoyance, we gradually build up the habit of self-control. When bigger and vastly more distressing things happen the carefully accumulated habit of self-control is still working.

JUST ANOTHER CLUB
When the next man comes around to your office and tries to get you to join a new organization, turn on the most powerful spotlight you can command—and then use a microscope. Analyze his suggestion through and through. There is a club for about everything and everybody in this world now. Be very sure the suggested organization not only has a definite purpose but a definite likelihood of accomplishing something worth while before you join it. What's the use of belonging to something just for the sake of belonging? What's the good of spreading out your time so thin that it doesn't cover anything properly?

Don't be a joiner without a reason.

Country's Opinion Is Divided On New Money For Prohibition

Strong Sentiment In Favor Of Letting Additional Appropriation Until President-Elect Can Give Attention To Situation

Even among strong supporters of the cause of prohibition there is a division of opinion concerning the additional $24,000,000 for dry law enforcement which was initiated in the present and the administration prospective will be brought into it. In the president-elect can look into the situation through his proposed commission and some fully charge that the whole thing is a movement to embarrass the incoming administration. The very reverse of the latter thought is the suggestion of the DETROIT FREE PRESS (Ind.) that "the action will stand in the record of the senate as a $24,000,000 vote of confidence in a president before he has taken the oath of office" and that paper exclaims: "What leader of a parliamentary government in Europe would not sell his soul for such an endorsement!"

"The logical thing to do, of course," in the opinion of the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind.), however, "would be to leave the whole business, including the additional sum that may be needed for enforcement, up to the incoming president."

There seems also to be a very general agreement that Mr. Hoover's plans for making a survey of the whole subject should be awaited before any largely important step is taken in congress. Other papers which advocate the idea of awaiting a report from the Hoover commission include the CHATTANOOGA TIMES (Ind. Dem.) and the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) while the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD (Ind.) believes "there is something to be said for that view."

The incident seems to the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN (Ind.) to have "the appearance of political shadow boxing" while the INDIANAPOLIS STAR (Ind. Rep.) offers the opinion that the senators' motives may have differed somewhat in detail, but they were mostly political. The COLUMBIA TRIBUNE (Ind.) remarks: "It is generally understood that the sentiment in the senate, expressed by the comfortable majority, is of a political nature, and does not find its source in any sincere desire for real prohibition enforcement."

Those citizens who seek orderly processes of government and are neither radical wets nor radical dries will look upon the present phases of the battle with new misgivings, says the BINGHAMTON PRESS (Ind. Rep.). The LOUISVILLE TIMES (Ind.) declares: "Prohibition is not the only task of the United States government; and could not be the whole, of the major duty of the president. But, aside from that, thoughtful politicians who gaily vote for an appropriation of $24,000,000 in the hope of embarrassing the incoming president, display, spectacularly, their moral unfitness for the office to which their constituents elected them."

"Federal prohibition has been the cause of many spectacular follies, as well as unmeasured evils, but this action of the senate can them all, avers the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH (Ind.), with the added thought: "Imagine the embarrassment of Mr. Hoover if he is handed this large sum for expenditure in the enforcement of prohibition laws, without knowing what to do with it. Secretary Mellon does not want it, and if he cannot expend it through the treasury department, which is charged with the enforcement of prohibition, where will he put it?"

Review of lawless conditions by the SANTA BARBARA DAILY NEWS (Dem.) is accompanied by the advice: "The remedy for these conditions is simply honest and fearless enforcement of the law. Of course, this requires money but it requires something else more important and that is a will to enforce the law."

Surprise is expressed by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD (Ind.) at the attitude of prohibition leaders who opposed the appropriation: "The organized prohibition leadership of the country has had little criticism to offer or complaint to make. And now when an effort is made to provide needed funds for enforcement, a good draw Mellon in opposing it." Predicting a "battle royal" by CHARLESTON EVENING POST (Ind. Dem.) feels that "it is not probable that the administration present and the administration prospective will be brought into it. In short," continues that paper, "the whole issue of enforcement is open for something warmer than discussion." The SAVANNAH PRESS (Dem.) nevertheless states: "We are obliged to regard the vote in the senate as a step in the direction of what many people hold a great moral reform. The significance does not lie in the amount given but in the favorable sentiment in the United States senate."

"The measure simply plops fast and loose with the people's money," insists the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL (Rep.), "for the appropriation is not large enough either to provide any evidence as to the impossibility of enforcing prohibition or to improve present conditions to any appreciable extent." The WORCESTER TELEGRAM (Ind.) agrees that "the $24,000,000, even when added to the $33,000,000 which congress has already appropriated, would represent only added expense and continued inadequacy." The UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH (Ind.) contends: "To add $24,000,000 to the fund and make no provision as to how it should be used would be a hazardous thing, for the money might be frittered away in a most senseless manner. First plan the work and then make necessary appropriations for carrying it out."

"The question of how much the government is willing to spend for prohibition remains a puzzle, with the answer still very much in doubt," remarks the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS (Ind.), but the definite point taken by the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL (Ind.) is that "four whole systems of administration calls for re-portioning on a considered plan such revenues as it has been estimated are needed and can be properly applied, not simply handing a lump sum to an official to be spent as he sees fit. Moreover, it does not meet Mr. Mellon's objection that there is a lack of facilities to try those who may be arrested because of increased political activities. The president cannot set up additional courts."

"Failure to endorse the appropriation leads us to wonder just what method Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Detan would suggest as the panacea," concludes the ASBURY PARK PRESS (Ind. Dem.).

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHOLESOME ADVICE.

Harry Carr has been a Western newspaper man connected with the Los Angeles Times since the days of that fighting American Editor, General Harrison Otis. He probably knows more about the writing game than anyone in the West and he says out the following warning to those writers, good, bad and indifferent who believe Southern California and particularly Los Angeles and Hollywood need their services:

"Writers should stay away from Los Angeles and Hollywood. There are already a hundred for every job. There are enough writers here to saturate cities six times the size.

"In every mail I get two types of letters."

"Hopeful letters from newspaper writers hither and yon who want to come to Hollywood."

"Desperate letters from writers already here who can't find work and who, in some cases are literally starving."

"The situation is growing serious." There are, as a matter of fact, very few openings for writers in Los Angeles at any time.

"The newspapers here do not have frequent changes in their staffs. Most of the men on The Times, for instance, have been on the paper for many years. There are few opportunities because there are few changes."

"Most of the writers who come here have rosy dreams of fortunes to be made in the movies. They are just dreams."

"The adventurous days of the Movies are over. The old days when bright young script girls blossomed into highly-paid scenario writers are gone."

"At present the Movies choose their technicians from two classes of professionals: those with long technical experience in the actual building of scenarios or authors with a name and fame. There are very few studios which can be persuaded to take the trouble to teach picture writing to amateurs."

"Another condition that should stand as a warning is this: 'The advent of the talkies' has created a demand for dialogue and this in turn has caused a wholesale importation of experienced stage dramatists from New York and other parts of the East. It may be a question whether or not this is a wise experiment, nevertheless, these are the facts."

"The chances of free-lance writing in Los Angeles are practically nil."

"There isn't a chance to keep a humming bird in need by writing at pick-up space rates for the newspapers. They all have large staffs capable of handling the situation."

"In New York and other publishing centers, there hundreds of small- or large-trade papers which

Methodists Are Raising Fund To Complete Fund For Cribbs Home

Members of the Methodist Episcopal congregations of this city are at present engaged in an intensive effort to raise a part of the $150,000 that the Erie conference of the Methodist church is striving to secure as a fund to support the Cribbs home for the aged at Conneautville, and the Smith home for children at Sheffield, Pa., throughout 1929. Both homes are maintained by the local conference.

According to the announcement those churches included here are the First M. E., the Epworth M. E., Croton M. E., Grace M. E., Mahoningtown M. E., Simpson M. E., Wesley M. E. and the Euclid Avenue M. E. congregations.

Personal visits by committees in charge are being made and literature is being distributed at the present time. The drive for New Castle's share of the goal set at $150,000 is earnest on February 10 and will continue unceasingly until the closing date, February 17. ## Famous Poet To Talk At College

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Yachel Lindsay, the American poet whom critics call the modern Whitman, will give a lecture Tuesday evening for Westminster college students and faculty members. The lecture, beginning at 8:15, is a regular college function.

Of contemporary poets, Mr. Lindsay is among the most widely read in English-speaking countries. He is best known as the author of "The Congo," "Johnny Applesseed," and "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven." He has written also many humorous pieces and some poems of epic nature which are among America's best.

Mr. Lindsay takes the place on the Westminster schedule of Alfred Noyes, celebrated English poet, who had to cancel his engagement due to illness. It is thought that Mr. Noyes can be engaged for a lecture recital next year.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING. Swish! Flop! Gobble! With a great fuss and splutter Gobbler alighted on the ground and gave a great sigh of relief. The boy laughed and patted his friend upon the back. "There, that's over," said he. "Once you made up your mind what you were going to do you did it without any trouble, didn't you? Remember this when next you have a question to decide. Now, then, where do we go from here?"

Gobbler shook his head. "Ask me something I know," said he. "And, between you and me, I don't believe the rest of the fellows have any idea what direction to take. It looks to me as if they were talking it over now. Let's find out what they are saying."

Gobbler sidled over to the edge of the crowd, and sure enough, the Wild Turkeys were arguing about where to go and the best way to get there. "Now, if you will take my advice you will follow the stream," said one. "You all know as well as I do that where there is water, there is sure to be fertile, flat land."

"All very well and good," declared another, "but the water does not have to be this water, does it? It says, turn to the right by that clump of fern and follow the trail that leads into yonder woods. It is sure to lead somewhere, and we shall be much safer in the underbrush than in the open."

"Safety first is all right, but what sense is there in sticking to shelter when it may not bring us anywhere? We have no one to be afraid of except the Two-Legs. Horned Owl and Lynx, the owls, will not dare to chase us in the broad daylight, and if we did run into any human he would not be apt to have a bangstick and even if he did happen to carry one, we could take to our wings and get away before he caught us. I say take the path to the left."

"It looks to me as if we should find plenty to eat in those pastures. I am sure I see some corn husks flapping in the wind, and where there are corn husks there are apt to be kernels."

"Where there's a corn field, there's sure to be a human!" screamed Gobbler. Before Peter could stop him, Barnyard Gobbler had joined the discussion. It was so loud and lasted so long Peter was half-deafened.

"We think we will," we think we will not! Gobble, gobbler, gobble!"

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—In conformity with the Talbot resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania house of representatives this week, the auditor general's department will report on Monday night the number of gas-line retailers in the state delinquent in tax returns together with the amount of delinquency. The resolution presented by Representative Grover Talbot, Delaware county, and passed by the house, fixed Monday night as the time for filing a report and it became known today that the department would be prepared to submit the report at that time.

Since the passage of the resolution there has been much discussion as to the purpose behind it, but Representative Talbot has been content to say that he is not in accord with the present system of tax collection and that on his own initiative he sponsored the resolution so that the whole tax collection problem could be brought to a head.

Retail Dealers Active. There are those persons who are inclined to believe that the resolution has the support of many retail dealers who are hopeful of having the tax collection system changed so that the tax would be collected from the wholesaler. Retail dealers in Blair county are behind a bill introduced by requests by Representative Bell, of that county, which provides for the collection from distributors and importers.

Various attempts have been made in former years to change the system so that collections would be made from wholesalers rather than retailers but the bills never progressed far because of certain unconstitutional provisions which they contained and also because they conflicted with inter-state commerce provisions.

Remote Possibility. From previous experiences it would seem that chances of a change in collection from retailers to wholesalers in this session are remote. The revenues are very much needed during the next two years and it would appear unlikely that the laws would be changed.

in a way which would permit of any possibility of their being set aside on constitutional grounds.

Opponents of the present system of collection, aside from many retailers, will probably receive many surprises in the report of gasoline tax collections made by the auditor general's department. The last check-up made by the department showed approximately $1,500,000 uncollected and it is not believed that the total amount to date will reach more than $1,700,000.

The period of all delinquency covers nine years and during that period the department collected in round figures $75,000,000. The records, therefore, show that delinquency amounts to only about 2 per cent and it has been pointed out that delinquency in collection in local municipal taxes always runs considerably higher than this amount.

There are about 38,000 gasoline retailers in Pennsylvania and the record of collection is pointed to with pride by supporters of the present system of collecting from retailers.

New Term Y. W. Health Classes To Begin Soon

Don't you, who are overweight, envy the members of the Y. W. of the Y. W. C. A. Health class who has lost 21 pounds since last October? This averages a loss of somewhat over a pound a week, which is a safe and sane reduction. The flesh is not put on fast, therefore it is contrary to the laws of nature to remove it too quickly, except in rare cases. Some people attempt to starve themselves. Some begin to exercise too vigorously. Why not learn to reduce intelligently? Learn the values of foods. Learn how to exercise correctly, and then you can lose weight intelligently and safely.

How can the heart pump blood throughout the body, year in and year out, if its functioning is impaired with layers of fat? If excess layers of fat are on the outside they are also on the inside of the body. Call the Y. W. and register in the new term health class. The morning class begins February 13; the evening class February 14.

Heavy Expense Of Poor District May Mean Higher Tax

Families Often Left Destitute When Head Is Sent Up For Violation Of Liquor Laws

Tax millage for the ensuing year will not likely be set by the county commissioners until the latter part of this month, or the first of March, as the books from county assessors are not quite all in. After they have all been received it will be necessary to go over the assessments to see how much property is taxable before the millage can be figured out.

At present it looks as though there will likely have to be an increase in millage for the poor district. Drains on the poor fund have been quite heavy during the past year, although a careful investigation has been made of each case. One of the big burdens that has fallen upon the taxpayers in this connection, comes from taking care of families where the head of the family has been sent up for violations of the prohibition laws. In a great many of these cases a family has been left with no means of support and the county has been called upon for aid. Most of these cases are among foreigners, and some of the families which have had to be provided for until the head is released from prison are quite large.

Merger Of Three Shipping Lines Believed Ready

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Consolidation of the United States lines, the American Merchant line and the Munson line was forecast in shipping circles today as the result of the activities of powerful Wall Street banking groups which have bid for the ships offered by the United States Shipping Board.

The bid of $16,032,000 submitted for P. W. Chapman and Company for the United States and American Merchant lines is believed to stand the best chance of acceptance by the shipping board. Ships involved in this deal include the Leviathan, George Washington, America, Republic, President Harding and President Roosevelt of the United States Lines and American Trader, American Banker, American Merchant, American Farmer and American Shipper of the American Merchant line.

The Munson line is linked with the merger combination because of the close affiliation of banking groups which handled the underwriting for the Munson Company when it purchased its South American fleet from the shipping board.

LOCAL RESIDENT EXHIBITS COINS

Another resident of New Castle exhibited to The News several old coins which were stamped by the United States government during the time intervening between 1805 and 1893. The resident concerned is C. H. Milholland of 433 Winter avenue. He received the odd pieces of money at the death of his father some time ago.

There were 11 coins displayed in all, and brief descriptions of the outstanding ones are given here. There was the white penny of 1860, just the size of the penny in circulation today. Then too, the half-cent, stamped in 1825 and of the same size of a quarter today. In 1866 and 1873 the government issued three-cent pieces, made of silver, and of the size of one of our pennies today. It is probable that three-cent pieces were coined in other years too, but the ones exhibited bore the dates given above. There was also the half dime of 1837, just half the size of our dime of today.

The penny of 1846 apparently took the prize for the largest coin of that period, it being similar to the half dollar of today and somewhat thicker. A Columbian exposition half dollar of 1893 was the same size as the fifty-cent piece of today. In 1806 the government stamped a half dollar, but instead of placing the word "half-dollar" on the face or back of the coin put it on the edge of the rim. One unaccustomed to handling these coins might fail to learn their denomination were they not most observant.

Verdict Against Police Officers
False Arrest Is Charged To Two Officers In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—Charles J. Samuel of Johnstown, Pa., today was awarded $175 damages by a jury in common pleas court, Judge James H. Gray, in a suit directed against Frank Goebeler and Michael Cailan, city policemen, for false arrest.

Samuel alleged that while on a street car returning from a ball game at Forbes field he missed his purse. He left the car and pointed out to the two officers a man he suspected of robbing him. The suspect was searched but no purse found. The purse was found on the floor of the car. Both men were locked up. Samuel alleged he was held for several hours until by using the telephone he was able to have friends come and post a forfeit for him.

It is said that the two policemen will lose the money only indirectly. The Fraternal Order of Police, of which practically all police are members, has a subsidiary branch, the Police Protective association, out of which fines levied against arresting officers are paid.

Senate Planning To Consider Presidency Nominations In Open

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A new proposal to change the senate rules so all presidential nominations will be considered publicly was made today by Senator Jones (R) of Washington. Jones served notice on the senate that on Monday he would move to amend the present rules so "nominations shall be considered in open executive session unless the senate in closed executive session shall by a majority vote determine that any particular nomination shall be considered in closed executive session." He previously proposed a similar change except that a two-thirds vote would have been required to obtain secret sessions. All roll calls would be made public under the change.

us in New Castle, but there are quite a large number of stockholders among the employees of the Carnegie Steel Company and the tin mills. The bonus is paid to an employee, according to the length of time he has held the stock, within a five year period. For the first year the bonus is $3, increasing $1 each year for the five years. If the employee sells his stock before the five year period is ended, the remaining bonuses due him are placed in a "jackpot". This jackpot is divided each year among the employees who have held their stock for the five year period. The jackpot divided this year amounts to $17.56 per share, in addition to the bonus.

Threats To Kill Made By Husband Says Mrs. Menefee

Claims That She Was Ordered

On Different Occasions

Mrs. Grace W. Menefee has filed in court here, an application for divorce from her husband, John W. Menefee, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married in October, 1917 and lived together until December, 1928, when Mrs. Menefee says that she was compelled to leave on account of her husband's treatment of her.

Among other allegations, she charges that Menefee threatened to kill her, at the same time showing a revolver and steel knuckles. She says that he frequently ordered her and her child from the house, and that on several occasions he had locked her out. She also charges that he struck and beat her and called her vile and unclean names.

Edith Spencer has filed an application for divorce from her husband, George Spencer, on the grounds of desertion. They were married in December, 1925, and lived together until the filing of the application for divorce.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle

You may think you know Westminster college; you may even have put in four years there, but until you see the new Old Main building your idea of Westminster college is years back of the procession. Until you fix your eyes on that chapel, until you ramble through the spacious halls of the place, until you have stood in the memorial tower room and visioned what was there before, you don't know Westminster.

Friday afternoon it was my privilege to spend a lot of time in the new building and on the campus of the college. It might almost be called a personally conducted tour with Dr. W. Charles Wallace and Faculty Manager A. A. McDonald in charge of the trip. The enthusiasm of Dr. Wallace is contagious and caustic indeed is he who could talk with him and walk with him very long and not be warmed by the fire of enthusiasm which burns within him.

Things always happen for the best, it seems. Just a little over two years ago I stood on the campus of Westminster and watched the flames devouring Old Main. From the president down to the newest freshman, they were bowed down with grief. All the tradition of half a century, all the sentiment of the years, all the glory and pride of Westminster college lay smoldering in the ashes and the future looked black and foreboding. Strong men were unashamedly that cold January morning for it seemed as though Fate had struck a cruel blow.

But Fate hadn't struck such a cruel blow after all. The cloak of gloom that hid the village, merely covered Opportunity, and out of those ashes has risen a thing of beauty, a temple of education, a new Old Main that has challenged the very best in the sons and daughters of Westminster. A building that is a delight to the eye and a satisfaction to a harassed educator who two years ago wondered where he would put all the students.

Looking at it from the south side one is struck with the beauty of design and as the eye travels along the well proportioned lines of the building proper, the eye hits the memorial tower, rising with impressive dignity on the north and south axis of the old building. And up in the top of the new tower will be the connecting link with the old building, the bell that has called thousands of young men and women to the higher things in life.

The chapel of the building is an inspiration. Gothic in design it has a stately beauty about it that is most fitting. Almost every conceivable kind of an arch is found in it, and as the sunlight outside trickles through the art glass windows, it traces weird designs on the walls that seem to be alive with color that they seem alive. The new chapel will hold 500 on the main floor and 300 in the balcony. One might go into detail as to the measurements and appearance of the chapel but this column is not for that purpose today.

Entering the building from the loggia entrance one strains the ear to listen for the hoof beats of the charger of some plumed knight, for the loggia entrance might well be that of some old castle. Inside the offices are found with the president's office first, then the dean, then the registrar and other business offices.

There are 21 class rooms in the building, spacious, well lighted rooms that will care for the needs of 750 students in the aggregate. In addition there are rooms for the instruction rest rooms for the students, a "Little Theatre" that delights one who cares for the things it will provide for. Arched hallways add a dignified

MISS CALIFORNIA HAVANA BOUND

Just elected, Miss California, center, departs for Havana to compete with beauties from many other states and nations in the forthcoming Cuban carnival. air to the interior with plenty of windows providing natural light.

It's a wonderful place and looking at it from the outside is just like looking at the cover of the book. The binding may be beautiful but when the contents are more beautiful it but adds to the enjoyment of it. It won't be long now until the new Old Main will be ready for occupancy and inspection. When it is, you owe yourself a treat. No words can convey the true worth of the place, it must be seen to be appreciated.

From the new building we went out onto the campus and through the glasses of enthusiasm the doctor provided we looked at the "Westminster That Is To Be." The boys' dorm is there, so is the gym, but the library is still a vision, and several other buildings that will line the campus are yet to come. They will come in time if the young men and women who are there today do not forget their alma mater in years to come.

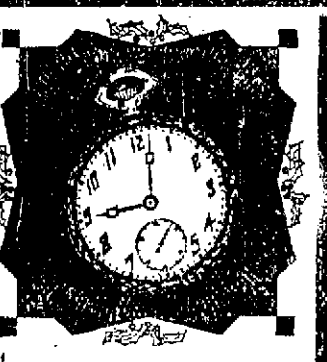

Robert Audley Browne Hall, the dormitory for freshmen, ended the trip. As we walked along the halls, the strains of ukuleles floated over transoms and the boys were "no-de-doing" in red hot fashion. It was near the dinner hour and perhaps they were working up an edge. My edge had been piling up through the hiking hour (or is it supper up there?) came, we were ready.

That dining hall reminds you of an army mess hall, it's so different. Scrupulously clean, dazzling in its white tile, and tantalizing one with the odors of good food, well cooked and pleasingly served.

It was the usual run of meals and after wrapping myself around a couple of cabbages that had been tucked to safety in a dock of frankfurters, a pile of mashed potatoes, a salad, some bread and butter and a dumpling, I was willing to agree that after all it was a pretty good world. No wonder that freshman class looks like a crew of well fed stevedores.

It was a remarkable afternoon. One that was well spent, for after all Westminster college is very close to us here in New Castle. The old school has given us some wonderful men and women, has trained a lot of our best professional men and women, and with the new Westminster that is coming we can expect even larger things.

Braddock Sailor Will Be Feted

Fonce Kellams, Braddock Boy, Hero On S. S. America, Reaches Home

FIRST TIME HOME IN TEN YEARS

(International News Service) BRADDOCK, Pa., Feb. 2.—Fonce Kellams, the Braddock boy who was one of the heroes of the S. S. America to rescue 32 Italians from the sinking liner Florida, came home today to the plaudits of his townspeople. Kellams reached Pittsburgh from New York this morning, jumped into a taxicab and ordered the driver to "make a little speed to Braddock".

His first stop in Braddock was the home of his step-mother, Mrs. Carl Fox. It was the first time in 10 years that Fonce had been home and the reunion was an especially happy one.

A gala reception that Braddock civic groups had planned for Kellams was postponed when attempts to learn definitely what time he would arrive failed. However, Joseph Sherman, secretary of Braddock council, said the welcome program would be carried out later, including a banquet and presentation to the sailor-hero.

Kellams was one of eight sailors who set out in a lifeboat from the liner America and, through a stormy sea, reached the sinking Italian liner to rescue the entire crew 700 miles off the Virginia coast on January 23.

Three Sites Are Considered For School Building

Location For New Building At Harlansburg Will Be Selected At Early Date

Three sites for the proposed grade and high school at Harlansburg were recently inspected by Dr. Shaw of the State Department of Public Instruction. One is on the Perry Highway, north of the town, and comprises several acres on the west side of the road, adjoining the village.

Another site is at the top of the hill on the New Castle-Harlansburg road, and a third is south of the Baptist church on the Perry highway. There is considerable difference of opinion among patrons of the school as to which site would be the most desirable.

It is said that what many consider an exorbitant price, $500 per acre, has been asked for the site north of the village, and unless some very material concessions can be secured, it is not likely to be considered, unless the school board should decide to condemn the property, in which event the price would be fixed after testimony had been heard as to its value.

It is understood that no prices have been given on the other two sites, but that either one of them can be obtained at much more reasonable figure.

The present site of the old school house and of the one room building, now being occupied as a high school, will not be considered, as there is not sufficient ground for playgrounds. Something definite in the way of selecting a site is likely to be done in the near future, as it is the desire of the board to have the building erected in time for school next fall. A bond issue for the erection of the building has already been passed.

FIREARM FATALITIES AS PER CENT OF ALL FATALITIES DEATHS BY AGE GROUPS 1924-1926 ESTIMATED FOR U.S. FROM REGISTRATION AREA DATA

A RECENT study of firearm fatalities throughout the country during the years 1924 to 1926, inclusive, reveals the fact that 8,000 deaths have been caused by firearms during this three year period. The survey, made by the National Safety Council, also reveals the fact that about one-fifth of all of the firearm fatalities occur to persons between the ages of 15 and 19. Between these ages firearm fatalities also account for 10.4 per cent of all the accidental deaths.

The heaviest toll comes during the fall and winter months when the hunters are out in full force. Firearm deaths account for about 3.2 per cent of all the accidental deaths in the country. And by far the highest percentage occurs between the ages of 10 and 20. In more than 87 per cent of the cases the victims are boys and men.

Debating Team Starts Meetings

Westminster Orators Prepare For Coming Forensic Season

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Westminster College men's debating teams will commence regular squad meetings in the college library next week in preparation for the season.

In addition to the traditional triangular debates with Grove City and Geneva the schedule will also contain matches with Bethany, Waynesburg, Rutgers, Mt. Union, Temple and Allegheny.

The schedule, though not definitely fixed as to dates, will start the latter part of this month, when the Westminster team will journey to Meadville to meet the Allegheny forensic team. This will be in the nature of an open forum discussion dealing with "free speech". This debate will be presented before the businessmen of Meadville.

The resolution which will be the basis for debate in other contests will be concerned with the abolishment of the present jury system in American courts.

The debate with Rutgers University at New Wilmington promises to be the feature of the season. Last year a Westminster team defeated Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J., in an open forum debate. It is also possible that a debate between Westminster and Pitt freshman teams will be arranged.

Women Motorists In More Mishaps Than Men, Figures Show

By E. L. RAWLEY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—Women motorists have three times more accidents per thousand miles of driving than men motorists. However, the average accidents in which women drivers become involved are much less serious than those in which male motorists participate.

Confirmation of the secret was expressed by Dr. Morris S. Viteles, assistant professor of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania. Friday following an 11 months' survey, in reaching his decision Dr. Viteles studied the records of approximately 150 women chauffeurs and 2,000 men all of whom operated the same type of vehicle and drove under substantially the same conditions each day.

Figures inaccurate.

In past comparisons of the relative safety of men and women drivers in various cities and states the reports have favored the women driver. The reports have been inaccurate however, Dr. Viteles insists because they were based on the total number of men and women drivers and the number of accidents occurring.

"Such comparisons fail in the first place, to take into consideration the number of accidents as compared with the mileage covered," Dr. Viteles said. "And since it is safe to assume that the average number of miles covered by male operators is much in excess of the average number covered by women drivers, this circumstance should be weighed in any true test."

Then again men drive vehicles under more unsatisfactory driving conditions than women. A greater proportion of men drive in heavy traffic and in stormy weather than is the case with women the survey revealed. Only men drivers operate trucks and other heavy vehicles and the number of accidents is greater among this type of vehicles than among the lighter cars Viteles said.

Feb. 2.—Three persons, Joseph Starr, his wife Stella and his daughter Esther 15 narrowly escaped death Friday when their automobile was dragged 200 feet by a Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight train at Stovestown. All were thrown from the machine by the impact and escaped with slight injuries. Starr, unable to see because of a blinding snowstorm crashed into the train at a crossing.

Two army officers attained such elevation the cold contracted their controls and they didn't come down. We've known elevation to expand a second lieutenant with the same result.

Check Is Protested, Suit Is Brought To Collect The Amount

Three Actions Based On Bills Are Filed At The Prothonotary's Office

In a suit filed by the Borm Manufacturing company of Chicago at the prothonotary's office this morning against the B. C. Penny company, an effort is being made to collect a bill for merchandise of $328.09.

It is claimed that the defendant gave a check to Attorney E. M. Underwood for the amount of the bill, but when it was presented to the Citizens National bank of Ellwood City, it went to protest for lack of sufficient funds. Demands for payment have since been made without result. Kraus and Beam of Pittsburgh have filed a suit against C. L. Snyder to collect $419.02. The suit is based on three notes on which payment was to have been made at the First National bank of this city, but which it is alleged, were not met.

The Frank Mercantile corporation of New York has filed a suit against Charles Eronomon, trading as the Walford Lunch, to collect a bill of $223, as evidenced by a trade acceptance.

St. Blase Day To Be Observed

Important Event At St. Mary's Church On Sunday

St. Blase Day will be observed Sunday in St. Mary's parish. It was announced today by Rev. Fr. S. Clifford, vicar encome, or pastor in charge and there will be the blessing of the throats of all those who come forward, whether members of the Catholic faith or not.

This day has long been one of importance in the calendar of the Catholic church, because of the great benefits that have been derived by many people in the cure and prevention of ills of the throat and other diseases.

The blessing of the throats will be held after each of the masses Sunday morning, 7 a. m., 8:30 a. m., 9:30 a. m. and 11 a. m., also in the afternoon at 2:30 p. m. and in the evening after Vespers. The afternoon service will be devoted largely to the blessing of the throats of smaller children.

The ceremony of blessing the throat is very beautiful, the recipient of the blessing having a lighted candle at the side of the throat, as this blessing is spoken by the priest, "Through the intercession of St. Blase, bishop and martyr, may you be free from ills of the throat and all other infirmities. In the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Amen." As the blessing is concluded, the priest makes the sign of the cross with the candle over the person seeking relief from throat and other bodily ills.

Some people seem to think that prosperous times are those in which one can buy more things on the installment plan.

DODGE BROTHERS SIX PRESENTED BY WALTER P. CHRYSLER

FROM THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, JANUARY 5, 1929

THE NEW Dodge Brothers Six furnishes unsailable evidence of the unlimited capabilities of the great forces of the Chrysler Corporation when marshalled to full strength in any enterprise.

From an engineering standpoint it is a supreme achievement of a group of engineers whose scientific accomplishment have revolutionized contemporary automobile design.

We believe this in performance in new measures of comfort, in long-lived excellence, and in persistent and inherent value, it surpasses every previous conception of what a car at this price could possibly be.

The utmost we would ask is that you actually see, examine and test the car itself—demanding of it more than you ever before have asked of any motor car at or near its price.

MERCER NEWS

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 2.—The floating of an $800,000 bond issue for the county's share of paving 53 miles of 10 lateral roads in Mercer county, comes as the result of plans proposed at a joint meeting of the Mercer County Good Roads association and the County Commissioners.

According to the plans of the committee, the amount would not all be used at once, but would be distributed over a period of years, matching the state appropriation. Should the plan materialize, all main highways in the county would be connected by hard surfaced lateral roads.

Miss Bernice Webb of Jamestown, is the third tax collector in the county to make a complete return of 1928 tax duplicates.

Charles Law, veteran court house employe, has returned to work after an absence of several days, caused by illness. Mr. Law has been identified with county affairs for many years, and is one of the most widely known men in Mercer.

William Fleming, county detective for Lawrence county, and Corporal Schmidt of the New Castle sub-station of state police, have been in Mercer the past few days, testifying in the case of Robert McConnell, charged with chicken stealing.

It was largely through the work of Fleming and Schmidt that the alleged thieves were captured. They were working in connection with the Mercer county officers.

Those who have not been absent during the present school year are: Albert Presnar, Mrs. Mildred Mer-shimer Turner, teacher.

Paper Dolls Bring Fortune

MRS. STELLA ADLER, who says she does not regard herself as a business woman, has originated and developed a manufacturing business requiring 18 traveling saleswomen, who, between them, cover every state in the Union, sometimes, according to the season, as many as a hundred girls are employed in the factory. No, it's just a big art studio, insists Mrs. Adler. Products of this studio are shipped not only to every state but to Honolulu, Alaska, Canada, Cuba, the Bermudas and only occasionally as yet, to Europe. These products are of nearly 500 designs, all originating in the little head of Mrs. Adler. And without exception they are made of paper.

Mrs. Adler Made Her First Paper Plaything For Her Daughter Twenty Years Ago

few simple mechanisms for crimping that stands on its own paper feet and in 1916. Place cards, party favors, paper and a few dies for stamping or rather molding designs in paper art, made the doll for Judith. The Baby Love act, including an outfit of paper garments, is one of our best sellers. There is no noise but the educated noise produced by the phonograph that plays to please the girls—music according to a celebrated humorist who was not musical, being educated noise. There is no time clock for the girls to punch, no set of rigid rules tending toward capacity production, no aspect of boredom on the part of the employees. You see, each of these girls is herself a potential artist, and she loves the work for art's sake.

Studio Girls.

"Mine are studio girls, not factory girls," says Mrs. Adler. "Many of them do their work in their own homes and they all come from good families. These interesting little images—or dolls, if you prefer—stand alone on paper feet, they reach out paper hands for you to shake, they wear paper clothes—and the smaller ones even paper hair. And the hundreds of other sorts of novelties are of paper. Paper, paper every where, and not a word to read excepting the brief notices or names painted upon some of the articles.

No Machinery.

In this factory—beginning Mrs. Adler's pardon for using the phrase—there is no machinery save a doll, named Baby Love, a tiny dolly get my ideas from various sources, making beautiful things, and that is the variety and the demand seem what I like. The girls like it, too, unlimited. I do not feel at all that Most of them are paid by the piece. I am in business—it is rather a feeling that I am presiding over a big studio that is turning out works of art. Paper art it is, of course, but there are many opportunities for low the design artistically."

Favors and Novelties.

Presently the Party Artists evolved into the Adler Favor and Novelty Company, an incorporated concern. Mr. Adler gave up his own business when he saw his wife's enterprise growing so rapidly, and now he devotes his attention to the big art studio over which she presides as chief and sole designer of novelties. "I have no understudy," says Mrs. Adler. "Of course, there are other persons who design paper novelties, but I am the only designer in my own establishment. Everything we make here is first designed by me. I

A Glimpse Behind the Screen

WHEN the movie fan is watching his favorite star upon the screen in the darkened theater, with hundreds of others about him, an orchestra playing, lights, warmth, all the comforts of home—seldom, if ever, does he pause to think of the months of patient, earnest endeavor, during which as many as 1,000 people labored that he might have this night of entertainment. Nor does he reflect upon the care and work and worry that this seemingly completed drama still causes his custodians in the motion picture world.

A Glimpse at It.

But a successful movie is born only from long travel of a multitude of workers. Before Mr. Average Man gets his enjoyment from it, many specialized men and women have given of their talents, the sweat of their brows—even on the day, he sees it unrolling before him, other groups are laboriously serving his needs in this film. Only continual Herculean effort keeps a movie available to the American public. Mr. Average Man, however, to know of these labors and to appreciate the devotion of those serving him, must view the work; and probably the best place to get a brief glimpse of it, other than at a studio, is at the film exchange.

Every large city has a number of these exchanges. In fact, practically every big producer of films and combinations of lesser makers, have such exchanges scattered all over the country, to serve as their distribution points. Each is manned by experts in their part of the industry. Perhaps Harry Weiss, who is manager of a First National Picture Exchange is one of the knowers of these persons in his territory, for he also is president of the Film Board of Trade, an organization of the industry.

Mr. Average Man.

Behind what Mr. Average Man sees on the silver screen are varied tasks for various people. First of all, the producer must set his story—no light task. Then he must finance it, for everything in the film world is paid for in advance, and $1,000,000 may be spent on a picture before the first receipts begin to come in. There is the author's pay, the salaries of actors, the cost of materials and all expenses to be paid out before the picture is an actuality. This needs bankers, and sometimes enlisting them is not the easiest thing in the world.

That part settled, comes the selection and assembling of actors and a retrogresses suitable for the parts: the finding of a location and the photographing, cutting and titling—tasks occupying, sometimes, as much as a year before the production is ready for the theater.

Regular Booking.

Then the film exchange assumes its share of the task. Distribution must be provided and the picture given a regular booking, showing just where it is to play, and when, over a long period. Here theater owners and exhibitors begin their share of paying in advance, for the rent of a film must be put up before it can be cast on the screen.

"Pictures are booked and advertised months ahead," says Weiss. "For this purpose all film exchanges have a booking department. A book-er corresponds to a train dispatcher for a railroad. Every film must be at a certain place at a certain time, just like the fastest limited trains. Imagine what would happen if a theater owner had a picture booked and it did not show up in time!

"That happens often—usually on Sundays and holidays. The film is lost, is carried past his town by the trains, is sent to another place with a similar name, etc. Many a thrilling automobile trip has been made at the last moment in an emergency.

Relay Race.

"I distinctly remember not long ago receiving a telephone call at 7 o'clock in the morning from an exhibitor 150 miles from me, whose show was due to open at noon and who had not received his film. There were no trains available, it being a Sunday morning. I had to locate another print of the same show and couldn't get started towards his town until 9 o'clock, and, his being a heavily advertised attraction, no show would have meant a big loss. I instructed him to start towards me in his car, carrying a red flag on his radiator, and I started his way with a similar signal. I left the office at 8:45 and at 10:30 was nearly 80 miles out when I met his car, transferred the film and the exhibitor made his way back home in time for the show.

"But nobody in the house that day knew of the efforts that had been put forward so that they would not miss the picture."

Five Prints.

Film exchanges keep five prints of each picture on hand. They are generally booked into five different theaters at the same time, but in the case of a first run, an extra copy is kept on hand for emergency use. These films have to be inspected and repaired every time they change from one theater to another. In the case of short films and small theaters, where the program is changed daily, this is a tremendous task, for often the films have to travel a long distance after the close of the show from the theater to the exchange, be inspected there and travel again to another theater for the next day's opening, sometimes as early as 10 o'clock. This makes the exchanges keep several shifts of inspectors at work, and they are on duty at all hours of day and night. Veritably, the film workers work while others play and in order that the others may play.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of American Industry
Whitney Invents The Cotton Gin, 1793

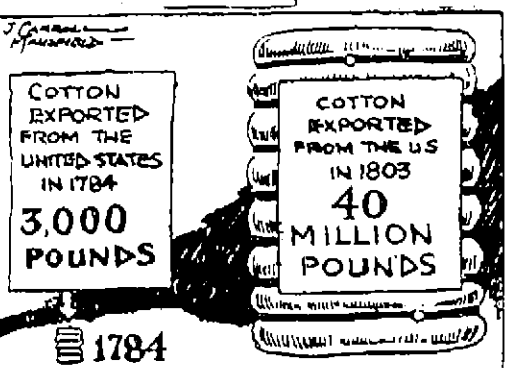

AFTER THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR, THE GREAT-EST ADVANCE IN AMERICAN AGRICULTURE WAS IN THE RAISING OF COTTON, FOR WHICH THE SOIL OF THE INTERIOR OF THE SOUTH WAS PARTICULARLY ADAPTED. THE GROWTH OF TEXTILE MANUFACTURING IN GREAT BRITAIN RESULTED IN AN INCREASED DEMAND FOR COTTON TO BE MADE INTO CLOTH.

AT THAT TIME THE SEEDS WERE PICKED OUT OF THE TANGLED MASS OF COTTON FIBER BY HAND BY NEGRO SLAVES. AS IT TOOK A MAN ALL DAY TO CLEAN A SINGLE POUND OF COTTON, SO MANY SLAVES WERE REQUIRED AND SO MUCH TIME SPENT IN THE PROCESS, THAT THERE WAS LITTLE PROFIT FOR THE PLANTER IN THE INDUSTRY UNLESS HE CHARGED A VERY HIGH PRICE FOR HIS PRODUCT.

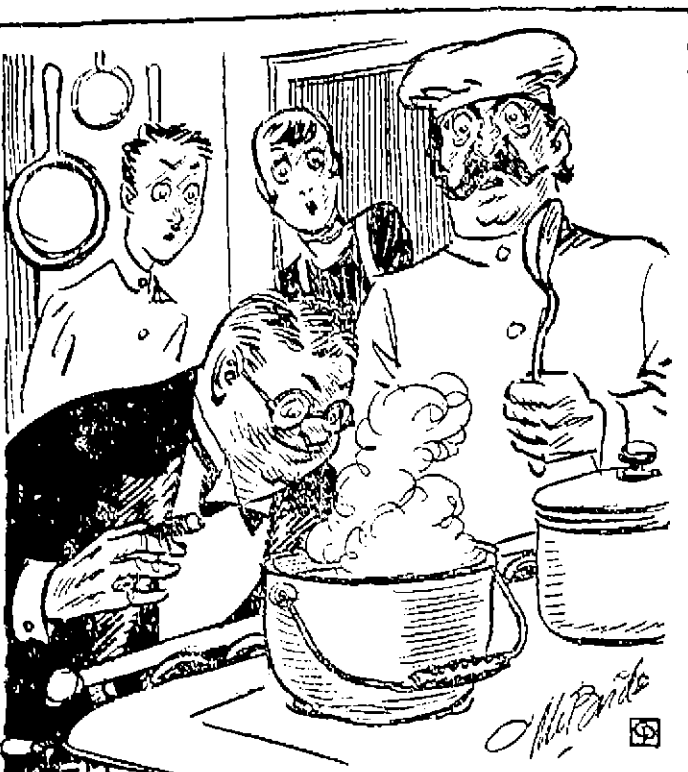

IN 1793, ELI WHITNEY, A NATIVE OF MASSACHUSETTS AND A GRADUATE OF YALE WHO HAD COME TO GEORGIA AS A TUTOR, INVENTED THE COTTON "GIN" (SHORT FOR "ENGINE"). IT CONSISTED OF TWO ROLLERS, ONE COVERED WITH TEETH, THE OTHER WITH LITTLE BRUSHES, WHICH REMOVED THE SEEDS FROM THE FIBER.

MORRIS—CONTINUED.

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS ELLWOOD 41-18

Ostrosky Plays Brilliant Game

New Castle Girls Defeat Ellwood In Fast Game, 36-22

Revamped New Castle High School Floor Team Topples Ellwood City Youngsters

NEW CASTLE BOYS PLAY FINE GAME

By "BUGS" WALTHER
NEW CASTLE High's revamped basketball team defeated Ellwood City High at senior high last night by a score of 41 to 18. The locals uncovered a clever offensive attack that netted 18 baskets, Captain Tony Ostrosky, the only veteran in the game, caged nine baskets to be high individual score.

It was a different New Castle team that took the court last night to battle the invaders. Coach Philip H. Bredenbaugh went through considerable worrying before he picked out five men to start the game, and his judgment was fine.

Locals Impressive.
Ellwood City with a purely "untried" team was no match for the locals. It was not the same Ellwood City team that recently handed the red and black passers a 15 to 12 defeat. Coach Lusk, following a recent game at Evans City, asked all of his regulars to turn in their suits. It developed. This group included Justine, Dunn, King, Friedoff and Ursu. The Ellwood City reserves were called into action and suffered defeat in their first start of the "big chance". Lee, however, will not re-instate the varsity team, according to a statement he made to the writer.

It was rather two "green" teams that faced each other at senior high last night. The game was fast and interesting throughout the entire four quarters with New Castle leading in the second, third and fourth quarters. The Ellwood team was younger and more inexperienced than the New Castles.

Lawrence sank the first basket of the game to give the Leemans the lead at 2 to 0, but weir caged one for New Castle and the count was deadlocked. Vago shot a foul and put New Castle in the lead, while they held for the remainder of the game. The first quarter ended with Ellwood City leading 7 to 6. Cloak caged a foul for the visitors that gave them a one-point advantage in the quarter. Weir and Ciccone sank baskets for New Castle in the first period with Lawrence and Segel dropping them thru the hoops for Ellwood. Ellwood made three out of five fouls and New Castle made two out of five in the first session.

Ostrosky is Big Star.
Vago deadlocked the count at 7-7 soon after the second quarter got under way and then "Tony" Ostrosky went on his scoring rampage and settled things in favor of New Castle. Lawrence caged the ball for Ellwood that tied up the count at 9-9, for the last time that the Lee coached team was to be anywhere near New Castle. Ostrosky caged two in rapid order and Vago shot a basket, with Ostrosky again scoring a field goal and foul. New Castle led at the end of the first half 18 to 9. Ostrosky had four field goals this quarter and Vago had one. Lawrence scored one for Ellwood City.

Vago Ostrosky and Weir caged baskets in rapid succession at the start of the third period to give New Castle a healthy lead. Ellwood City was held to a lone point in the entire quarter. Ciccone and McAuley were playing a strong defensive game, and kept the visitors from the scoring zones. The third quarter ended with New Castle leading 35 to 10. Weir caged a pair of baskets, Ostrosky sank three and Vago had two.

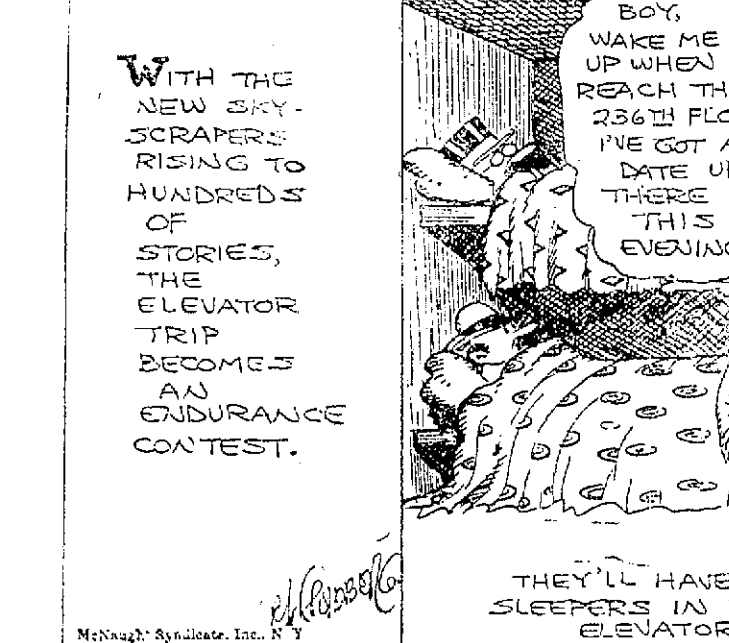

Both coaches started to send in substitutes at the start of the fourth and final quarter. DiThomas replaced Weir for New Castle and Metzger replaced Ciccone for Ellwood City. Ostrosky made a sensational one-handed shot from the side of the court to start the scoring for the final period.

Subs Get Chance.
New Castle and Ellwood both scored eight points in the fourth period. New Castle finished the game with practically the third team on the floor. Coach Lee also ran in his entire string of reserves toward the end of the game. F. Fazio caged the final basket of the game. Culbertson, who relieved Ostrosky near the finish of the contest and played a good game. DiThomas, Smith and Art Alexander also played good basketball when injected into the fray.

Coach Bredenbaugh seems to have outwitted the "jinx" and to have another first class team, replacing the many regulars recently lost by graduation, illness and scholastic difficulties. Last night was the first time in two years that New Castle has scored more than 40 points. Captain Ostrosky was the shining light of the game. Without the steady influence of the veteran leader, the locals might not have fared so well. Ellwood City played fine basketball, considering that the entire first team watched the proceedings in "divies".

PUNCH TO JAW TURNING POINT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—I takes a great man to beat a very good man and Johnny Risko, with the heart of a lion and the jaw of a gorilla was as good as ever he was last night when, reeling and punch-poisoned, he was called out on his feet after a minute and five seconds of the ninth round by a humane referee. Yes, Risko was good, very good, but Max Schmeling, the German, was so much better that he actually was greatest himself as he punched Risko until he was silly, leaving Referee Arthur Donovan nothing to do but award the Dempsey of the Deutschlands what is said to be the first legitimate knock-out ever scored at Risko's expense.

Will Play Off Championship Here

District Y. M. C. A. Young Men's Basketball Will Be Played Here March 30

The championship of the eight Y. M. C. A. district in young men's basketball will be played here in New Castle on March 30 states Walter Kirker physical director of the local Y. M. C. A.

The announcement was made this morning following the meeting of the Y physical leaders which took place at Tarentum on Friday. Walter Kirker, Howard Kirk, Jack Herbert and John Ray Preston represented New Castle at the meeting.

The association includes the basketball teams from New Castle, Tarentum, New Brighton, Butler, Sewickley, Coraopolis, Sharsburg and New Kensington.

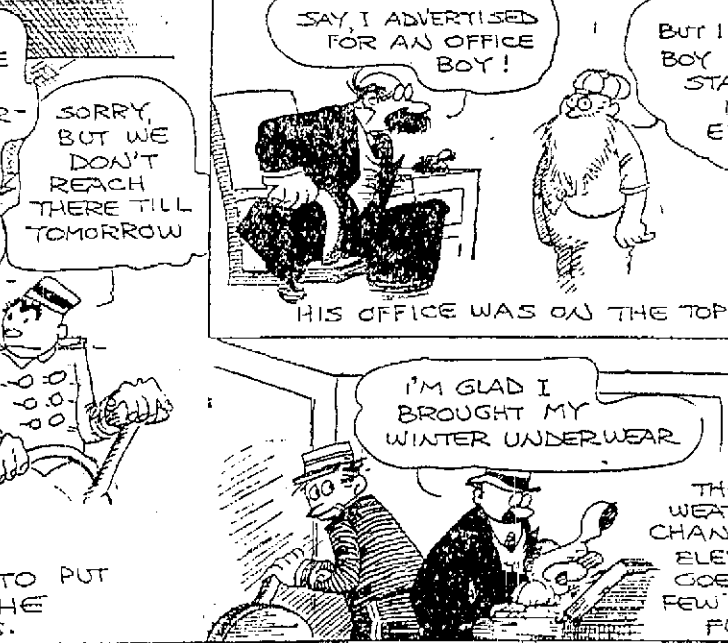

All of these Y. M. C. A.'s will have swimming, volley ball and basketball teams and they will decide the champions of the district in each of these sports.

The championship basketball which will be played off here will be that classification which includes men under 22 years of age.

The entire series of this class of all the eight different teams will occur here.

Some of the aggregation heehawed quietly when we remarked: "It looks as though Schmeling will beat Risko." The German Dempsey turned the trick in the ninth round at New York.

Church Bowling League Nearing Its Completion

Croton M. E., Mahoning M. E., And First M. E. Fight For Championship

With but a few more games to go, the interest in the church bowling league has almost reached the breaking pitch. Just now, the competition is fierce and the interest centers around the Croton M. E., First M. E., and Mahoning M. E. teams.

There are some slight differences in the percentages of these three teams. They are however far ahead of other competitors and as the league end draws near, it appears that it will be one of these three teams.

All three, states Walter Kirker, physical director of the Y and in charge of the league are on par. It will be the breaks and jumps which will decide the winner.

On Monday evening the Epworth M. E. will meet the Central Christians; Tuesday, the Grace M. E. and Central Presbyterians will clash; Thursday evening, the classic of the week and a decisive game will occur when the Croton M. E. and Mahoning M. E. will battle for the real lead in the league; and on Friday evening, the First Baptist team will meet the Croton M. E. bowlers.

There are but two weeks to go, after this next week. All of the teams will have their time around again but the three champ teams will not have another opportunity to meet each other following this coming week's schedule.

Allegheny Five Is Classy Team

Westminster Titans To Have Hard Battle On Home Floor Monday

BLUE AND WHITE NOT IN BEST FORM

(Special To This News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Westminster college sports followers become more enthusiastic with each hour at the prospect of the Allegheny-Westminster basketball game to be played here Monday night. After seeing "Dick" Baker's Methodists all but defeat the Titans at Meadville three weeks ago, fans are prepared to witness one of the outstanding games of the season.

Despite the fact that four freshmen and only one veteran comprise the Methodists' team, the Meadville team is undoubtedly one of the best in the entire district. Victories over Wittenberg, Grove City, and Wash-Jeff have proved that the so-called "green" team under Baker knows a lot of basketball. If the Allegheny passers play the brand of ball here Monday night of which they are capable, Westminster will have to be at top notch to stop them.

In Captain "Granny" Bair, Allegheny has one of the best forwards in the district. Berger and Garback, two freshmen who starred in football, provide back with two of the outstanding guards in the western part of the state. Mills and Dennison, two forwards from the freshman class, are also clever players, while the work of Conn and Moon at center accounts for the last play of the Methodists team.

Loss O'Donovan and Tudor Lewis are in shape for the title. United at the Falcons' camp. The Bessemer team is confident that they can stop the winning streak of the Falcons.

"Tony" Ostrosky, New Castle High star will referee the game tonight.

After the game a dance will be held in the Falcon hall. The Third U. P. team of the Church League failed to show up on last Thursday for a game with the Falcons, and Referee Ostrosky awarded the game to the Falcons.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Feb. 2.—The health board today adopted a resolution which bans the use of flueless gas stoves in stores, offices, assembly rooms and public buildings, as a means of preventing carbon monoxide poisoning fatalities.

DELAHUNTY LEADS INDIVIDUAL SCORES

Geneva college, with a trio of wins over Thiel, Westminster and not a single defeat against it, still continues to ride in first place in the standing of the district colleges. Westminster occupies second place in the group of six with wins over all of the members except Geneva.

The offensive of the Titans has been one of the outstanding features of the race. Lawther's charges have hung up a total of 145 points, while Allegheny, with the fewest games played, is last in this respect with but 36 tons credit. Thiel's defense has permitted the most scoring of any of the district teams with the Royal Blue's opponents chalking up 160 points.

WAMPUM

PRESENT PLAY

On Friday evening under the direction of Rev. E. S. Luce and Estel Emery, the Golden Glow Club of the Methodist church presented the comedy drama, "Civil Service or Old F. D. M." Wampum high school orchestra furnishing the music.

The drama was well presented and well received. The club and the orchestra have been very cordially invited to give the play at several of the Grange halls throughout the county.

Those taking part displayed unusual talent in their acting. Forrest Freed as "Old F. D. M." tells the dramatic story of his life in prison and the sacrifice he makes is very pathetic.

James Freed as Mr. Simpson Peary the gossip, keeps the audience amused by his cleverness.

Amel Leonard as Steve Audaine the hero, and Bertha Wardman as Kate Kenyon, the heroine, are so natural in their acting that the play seems to become a reality.

Ernest Luce as the postmaster is very officious in discharging his duties and displays unusual ability in being able to perform his duties as a general demagogue to that of a stern business character. Iva Belle Cunningham as Octavia, the postmaster's daughter, is very clever.

Lucille Pierce as Miss Goldstein, a collector, discharges her duties very businesslike and real.

Alma Newswander as Mrs. Jeffs, a lady of importance, keeps the audience in a ripple of laughter as well as suspense.

William Wardman as Cochran, the inspector, manages his affairs as well as an experienced detective.

Ellen Wardman as Birdie Bivins, and Howard Emery as Goldie West, both country characters, are so unique in their parts that the play could not be complete without them.

They furnish the comedy and suggest in giving the audience cause for many chuckles.

Wilmington Wins Over Mt. Jackson

New Wilmington Takes Two From Mt. Jackson Teams Friday; Varsity Wins 63 To 12

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 2.—Mt. Jackson high school basketball team left the New Wilmington floor yesterday evening on the short end of a 64-12 score. From the start of the game until the final whistle ended the scoring spree of the local team, the game was "on the ice" for Coach Olsen's passers.

New Wilmington started out strong with its first string five men on the floor and led the Mt. Jackson basketball team 20-7 at half time. McGill and Newton were the stars of the "at" quintet, but the whole outfit showed an improvement in team play. Pitzer played the best game of the McDowell coached team.

In the preliminary contest the New Wilmington sextet defeated the girls' team from the Mt. Jackson school, 33-23. A rally was staged in the final period by the Mt. Jackson team, but did not overcome the lead of the girls. Miss Minner starred for the home town sextet, while Miss Harris set up the best game for Jackson.

Groundhog Lodge Has Watch Service

Lancaster's Slumbering Order Of Groundhogs, Migrate To Country

(International News Service) LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 2.—Members of the Slumbering Order of Groundhogs, Quarryville, Pa., left today to take up their assigned positions at the various holes of their patron god to determine whether spring will come early or late this year.

The watch parties who determine whether the shadow of the groundhog is visible between the hours of nine a. m. and 12:10 p. m. make the pilgrimage an annual affair. Each year under the direction of George W. Hensel Jr., hibernating governor of the lodge, the members assemble and migrate to various sections of Lancaster county where they know the little animal will be found.

Hensel has made known that the Quarryville lodge has gained such publicity that he has received numerous applications from residents of other states for membership in the Slumbering Order of Groundhogs. Several of the applicants even volunteered to come to Lancaster county and watch groundhog holes if their applications are favorably acted upon. Meanwhile the work of the watchmen will be carried on this year by local members only.

On Being Sixty

Sixty—in 1780, on 'sixty'—in 1929

The fellow who's taken reasonably good care of himself, kept off of hot bread, lopped down occasionally, an' eaten lots of cabbage an' carrots, has only reached the shank o' young manhood at sixty. If we are o' the right composition we are at the height of our glory at sixty, seasoned an' sensible, an' capable of appreciatin' the joy of livin'. We've learned whether or not heavy fried pates hurt us, what inroads coffee has made, how fresh pork sets, an' cream pie affects us. We've had all of our warnin's by the time we round sixty. Youth, with its restlessness an' worries, an' crazy notions, heart flutterin', an' pitfalls, is sweet an' romantic, but we hain't got sense enough to realize it at the time. All the troubles o' after years are confronted durin' our youth. We married long before our judgment is ripe enough to know how we look in a derby hat. The fire o' romance is by no means languishin' at sixty, an' we will git just as excited over nifty knees as we used to git over the rustle of a skirt. We should be happy an' grateful at sixty that we got safely through the long, wild stretches from sixteen on. It sears lots of us to look back, an' we wonder how we ever reached sixty, an' believe me it is gittin' to be a greater an' greater accomplishment as time goes on. At sixty ever' thing worth havin' is spread before us. If we're happily married we jest begin to realize it, an' if we're single it's not a bit too late to cast about. An' with all the judgment an' experience we've piled up, we should be able to make a purty fair stab at matrimony. Women folks should rejoice when they git up around sixty. By sixty the ordinary mother, with her children scattered all over the place, an' her breathin' again, an' kin git out an' cut up. By sixty the average married couple has so many interwinnin' interests that they jest naturally pull together. They have married children to straighten out an' finance, the home an' furniture are paid fer, an' they're out o' the red ink. The mother kin look better around the feet and legs, while the father kin smoke cigars without feelin' like he wuz robbin' the family. There's no feelin' in this world, no thrill that kin hold a candle to the feelin' o' security that should cap a well ordered life at sixty, when we're firmly established an' kin slow down an' enjoy the privilege o' livin'. We used to give up at twenty-one, an' raise a soggy mustache, an' marry, an' neglect th' back of our neck, an' only shave fer Sunday an' funerals. But that's ole stuff. Today the stretch from twenty-one to sixty is a good, long while to git our house in order, an' be ready to begin on the really golden years of life with a paid up policy an' a sprightly liver. ### Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Rather severe storms are expected to cross continent in south-central transcontinental storm path during week centering on February 1; this storm wave will be expected to cause rather severe cold wave accompanying and following storm center; during the passage of this storm wave I will expect heaviest precipitation of month to occur, be fairly well distributed over the continent, heaviest in central cotton belt, eastern Great Central valleys, central and northern Atlantic coast; least precipitation on western plains and in western Great Central valleys. A storm wave of moderate intensity will cross continent in central transcontinental storm path during week centering on 7; this second cold wave of month; this storm period is expected to be rather severe, but not so extreme in temperatures and storm force, nor will it cause as much general precipitation as storm period centering on 1. Following the cold wave centering on 9 average temperatures will be expected to gradually rise to above normal, second 10-day period of month will average above normal temperatures and below normal precipitation. Natural ice men are advised to make use of this period, February 10 to 20, as the best period of season to lay in supplies; they should prepare for a fairly long and hot summer; not a summer of continued heat, but of periods that will average higher temperatures than has been experienced during the past few years. Einstein Back to Earth. Universal Service, dated Berlin, January 12, 1929, states: "A revolutionary theory showing close relation between gravitation and electricity has been formulated by Prof. Albert Einstein, whose theory of relativity has colored century-old scientific notions. Prof. Einstein stated that he had formulated certain equations and made comparisons that may be interpreted as a fusion of the field laws of gravitation and electricity. A work of about seven pages, the result of 10 years' searching, of such nature that only scientists can understand it." In 1913 pamphlets were issued from this bureau explaining the Foster theory, the relation between electro-magnetism and gravitation, many years before 1913 this relation was discussed through these weekly bulletins. The pull of the magnetic spiral that controls the low barometric pressure center and the push of the magnetic spiral that controls the high barometric pressure center, are examples of this relation that can be seen every day. The most valuable discoveries of future scientists will be the action of the electro-magnetic forces and the relation of these forces to conditions and changes of conditions within the earth's envelope. It is to be hoped that Prof. Einstein can stay away from relativity, space limits, fourth dimensions, etc., long enough to complete this valuable thesis and tell us something about it.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Broadway hears of the shakedown gag just successfully worked on one of the leading chin-ema favorites. The star succumbed for a handsome lad who couldn't make his oris behave, but he didn't tell the girl he was sealed. After a swift courtship of a month, his squaw went into her act and threatened the young star with another form of front page publicity. The star's trust fund was called upon to give up 30 grand to keep it sotto-voice, and the team of badger workers are now on the Main Drag to give it a bad name.

This is absolutely on the up-and-up!

IN FEWER WORDS

Wallace Sullivan appropriately calls second-rate talking pictures "Eucaches."

WHOOPEE, OR NOT WHOOPEE, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Among other things that make a columnar gray young is having thrust true, probably true. We reiterate. We upon him the blame for a popular have never claimed it.

expression. The nationally known "Making Whoopee," instance, has from time to time aroused this person or that one, who either penned a letter containing abuse, praise or clowning; or some editorialist in the provinces yowled: ".....New York again claims something that was invented in the prairies."

These constant followers of here, probably would tell you that the popular word has been repudiated by this corner a number of times. That is, the department pointed out, almost a year ago, that it first heard "whoopee" at a rodeo held at Madison Square Garden six years ago. Thus "whoopee" apparently was originated by the cow-herds and ranchers. The expression "Makin' Whoopee," the department also believed, it said, first appeared here over three years ago, when it was chronicled: ".....Francis Williams and Dick Simmons were making whoopee at Texas Gulnar's last night."

There has been no objection to that claim, but the complainants have never argued about "Making Whoopee." They ignored the line, selecting only the word "whoopee" to yip about. As a matter of fact, "whoopee" is purely a derivative of "whooping it up." Take Service's poem: "A bunch of the boys were whooping it up," and so forth. Yet there is an army of letter writers who have pointed out that Kipling used the word (not the expression) many years ago; that Shaw once employed it; that Shakespeare even used it, and so on. Probably

Not a fortnight ago, Mary Renault, the long oracle for the N. Y. Evening Telegram, paraphrased: "George Jean Nathan was the first to use 'whoopee' in a book, in 1916." What has Walter Winchell got to say about that? We checked it up with Mr. Nathan, telling him that if he desired the alleged fame that went with originating the word we would be glad to reprint Miss Renault's comment. Mr. Nathan admitted he had used it, but that he did not create it and that the book publishing press department evidently sent out the statement, "Every one knows," Nathan added, "that you popularized the expressing 'making whoopee,' so why discuss it?"

Ted Yudin, who columns for a New England paper (it wasn't listed on the clipping that came), says: "The widely used, much abused word was revived by Whoopee Winchell. The revival of that word, descriptive of innermost emotions, was in all probability, for the sake of the drug store cowboys, but it was first used in the wild and woolly west, where men are men. The yell, at that time, was shouted by the courageous men of the plains."

So be it. "Whoopee," then, was first used by the men of the plains, and not, as so many others would have us believe, by Shakespeare, Kipling, Shaw, Nathan or Winchell. It was, as they say, a word to let off steam, to release their emotions, by men who herded cattle, those shrewd, fearless he-men who fought with Guster, perhaps, or made Texas safe for Texans. And we agree.
